Applicant argue that characters such as ">" is non textual format. The Examiner respectfully disagrees, the character ">" is considered as one of a keyboard input which is a textual format. Further more, Tsukamoto et al. dislcose characters figure 11, "x" as shown under column "the schedule name" is similar to Applicants' figure 3.

Regarding claims 1, 3-4 7 and 9-11, applicants argue the combined cited references does not suggest display the current time of day information. However, Tsukamoto disclose display the current time of day (see col.6 lines 40-41, col.14 lines 35-40).

Applicants argue that the lack of a mention of the use of a "current time of day", page 8. Tsukamoto et al. disclose "the present time is compared with the time set in the schedule" (see col.20 lines 45-46) and if the comparison reaches yes/no coincidence, steps proceed to block 805/806.
